

DO YOU KNOW
THESE THINGS?

The emperor penguin is responsible for 4 months incubation period while the female penguins are hunting. In this period, The male penguin doesn't leave the egg between his feet even for a moment.

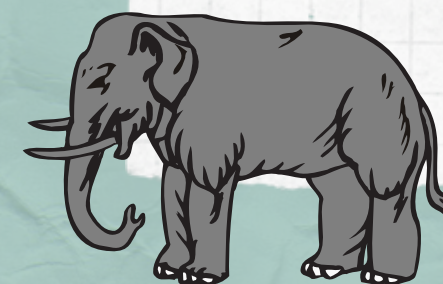

The poison of the blue or poison dart frog, which is known as the most poisonous animal in the world. They are 250 times more poisonous than the most effective poison. Even, touching the frog with a size of 2.5 centimeters is enough for a person to become paralyzed.

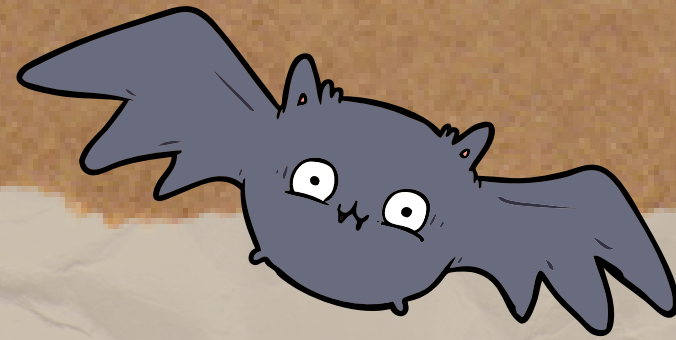

Japanese Macaque Monkey, is known as the only monkey species living in snowy and cold regions. Also, they make snowballs for their babies to have fun.

African elephants which have 22-month gestation period, distinctly difference to all other mammals in terms of gestation period

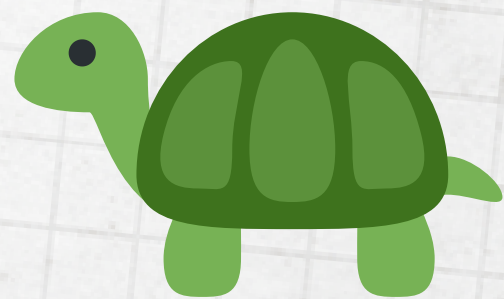

There are 986 bat species all around the world, only 30 of them live in our country. As, we know them as bloodsuckers but only 3 species of bats are fed with blood.

Squirrels keep their favorite food acorns under the ground by investing in the future. And these make thousands of trees sprout every year.

It's estimated that only 1 or 2 in 1,000 hatchlings of sea turtles will survive to adulthood.

Ants is the only species that never sleep on earth. Also, ants don't have a lung and Oxygen enters the small holes in the ants's bodies.

